SELECT COLONIAL VILLAGE FOR SITE

Historic Buildings Will Be Copied by Valley Forge Academy.

MILLION DOLLAR COST

Plans for a new home and a $1,000,000 building program were announced this week by the Board of Governors of Valley Forge Military Academy. They provide for construction of the entire school group modeled after famous historic buildings of Colonial times, such as Independence Hall, Congress Hall and old City Hall of the Independence Square group in Philadelphia.

The Academy was burned out of its original home when the famous old Devon Inn, at Devon, was destroyed by fire in January. Since then the cadets, under Major Milton G. Baker, superintendent of the school, have been occupying the buildings and grounds of what was St. Luke's School at Wayne.

On September 15 the new school will be opened in an $850,000 group of fireproof buildings, at the intersection of Old Eagle School road and Swedesford road, in Colonial Village, two miles north of Wayne, adjoining 3000 acres of the famous Valley Forge State Park. The land was purchased from J. Howard Mecke, Jr., founder and developer of Colonial Village, a residential community constructed in strict architectural conformity with the homes of Colonial times.

Architects' plans for the buildings have been approved and ground will be broken shortly at ceremonies to which high Army and Navy, as well as other State and Federal officials will be invited.

The school buildings, when completed, will form the most unusual group of educational structures in the country, comprising as they will, duplicates of famous historical buildings, known to millions throughout the United States.

The main building will be an exact duplicate of Independence

Mothers' Council Date Changed to the 13th

Announcement is made of the change in the meeting night for the Mothers' Council of Narberth. The meeting scheduled for Monday, April 15, has been advanced to Saturday, April 13, at 7.30 P. M. in the library of the school. Further details of the meeting will be announced in a later issue of this paper.

The high school study class will meet Thursday, April 4, at 12.30 P. M. in the Elementary Building and will be under the direction of Miss Pray. The books to be discussed are "On Being A Girl," by Gibson, and "Father and Son," by Drury.

The latest poster advertising the recent meeting of the Mothers' Council, on display in a local store was the work of Walter Ewald, a pupil in the seventh grade. As the result of an oversight, the report of that meeting failed to mention Master Ewald's very clever and original poster.

Better Homes Week Plans Progressing; Rules Announced for Garden Contest

Merchants or citizens having articles for exhibit during the Better Homes in America campaign to be held the week of April 21 to 27 are requested to get in touch with Howard F. Cotter, who will assist Lloyd B. Edgerton with this work. Any articles to be exhibited will be called for and returned at the close of the week.

A clean cellar contest is the latest to spring up. It will be in charge of Fire Chief Charles V. Noel, and is open to any resident using the Narberth Post Office. A prize of $5 will be given. For particulars call Mr. Noel, Narberth 3657.

Plans for the living room contest should be in by April 1 to Victor D. Abel, Narbrook Park. April 7 is the closing date for plans for the kitchen contest to

Post Needs Buglers For Newly-formed Corps

At the meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, last Monday much enthusiasm was evidenced, several new members were on deck and a generally good time was had by all. It is expected that over 100 new members will be added to the Post before the year is out.

With the granting of the money by the Post for the equipment of the newly-organized bugle and drum corps, great things can be expected of that body by Narberth citizens in the near future. Due to the fact that the great majority of applicants are drummers, more buglers are needed. It is hence requested that any ex-service men who are buglers, or who think they are buglers, apply at once for a position in the corps.

The Post has discovered that there are some ex-service men in the borough who have never been approached to join the Legion. Due to the impossibility of reaching everyone except by a house-to-house canvass, which is impracticable Commander W. Russell Green wishes everyone eligible to consider this a personal invitation to join the Harold D. Speakman Post.

LEGION B. & L. TO OPEN 21ST SERIES

Younger Association in Good Shape, Examiners of State Find.

MEET TUESDAY, APRIL 2

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association will open its twenty-first series on Tuesday, April 2, at the offices of the association, the Narberth Coal Company, Narberth and Haverford avenues.

The association has matured three double series in 7 months each, and will mature another double series in a few months.

A recent examination of the association's records and securities by the State Banking Department brought forth high commendation from that department.

The association has been very fortunate in its eight and a half years of operation in not having to take over any real estate.

Last December two young stockholders received a Christmas present of one share each, paid up to date in the October series. These two stockholders are as proud of their shares as others holding 10 or 25 shares.

The graduation from school would provide an excellent opportunity for parents to start the boy or girl off with an investment habit which would serve to teach them the value of saving.

The new series will issue both single and double shares. Single shares payable $1 per month and the double shares $2 per month. The entrance fee is 25 cents per share for single shares and 50 cents per share for double shares, payable the first month only.

New shares may be applied for at the Merion Title and Trust Co., the Narberth National Bank or through any director.

C. H. Woolmington, Narbrook Park.

Registration for the Better Babies' Show is being conducted by Mrs. Nelson Rowley and Mrs. George Gilpin.

The rules for the ground improvements and garden contest, conducted by A. E. Wohlert, are printed in this issue.

Here is a reminder of the kitchen contest:

"Just how proud are you as a housewife, of your kitchen, the woman's workshop? Do you know that you should enter it in the 'Better Homes Week' kitchen contest? If you are justly proud of your kitchen, send your name or communicate with the judge of the kitchen contest, C. H. Woolmington, 23 Narbrook Park."

MUSICAL SERVICE PROVES POPULAR

Big Turnout Hears Unique Instruments in Methodist Program.

BUILDING FUND GROWS

Every bit of available space filled with extra chairs, standing room all taken and people being turned away before the beginning of the service—such was the reception accorded to the Methodist Church choir at the special musical service last Sunday night. That the attendance was justified was soon evident when the audience was treated to a novel accompaniment of the first hymn by Harvey I. Mearns, of Newtown Square, on the Anngklong Chimes. Indeed, because the instruments used are new to most people, Mr. Mearns' part in the program was of unusual interest.

In keeping with the day Mr. Mearns' first solo number was "The Palms," played on the tubular harp, an instrument in which the tone is produced by drawing rosin-covered gloved hands over hollow steel tubes. The choir followed with Parker's anthem, "Ride On, Ride On," and Miss Mixsell with a contralto solo, "O Rest in the Lord," both of which kept up the high standard set for the program from its beginning.

The next number was probably the most interesting to many of the audience because of the masterful technique shown by the visiting soloist on the Swiss hand bells. "Bells of St. Mary" is always popular, but when played on real bells, each of which had to be picked up and rung individually and in perfect time, one marveled at the skill of the player as well as the music. This was also shown in the accompaniment to the hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

The offertory selection was a tenor solo, "Ye Who Sin," by Mr. Wetherill, who is always enjoyed, and after a brief address by Rev. Samuel MacAdams, the choir took up the program again with Scott's anthem, "Jerusalem."

For his concluding solo Mr. Mearns selected the "Lost Chord" and played it on the chimes. The tune is an old favorite, but many found new inspiration in the wonderfully rich and full tones of this very entertaining instrument. While the tubes are of metal instead of the native Javanese bamboo, they are suspended on rubber insulators and strike against felt so that the tune is practically a duplication of the original Anngklong. Much interest is being manifested just now in these chimes because Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, is writing a

Sorority Will Give Spring Dance Monday

The Cynwyd Club, Llandrillo road, Cynwyd, will be the scene of the spring dance of the Alpha Gamma Chi sorority Monday evening, April 1. With so many of the younger set home from schools and colleges for the spring vacation this is a most opportune time for former classmates at Lower Merion to meet again.

Miss Janet Hayes, of Wynnewood, is president of the chapter giving the dance and other members include the Misses Betty Cook, Helga Wohlert, Florence Mead, Dorothy Woodbury, Ruth Lee Cook, Cynthia Metzger, Laura Winters, Helen Marshall, Gladys and Ruth Ruddick and Emily McMakin.

Meeting Thursday

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will meet on Thursday, April 4, from 10 to 4. All women are cordially invited to attend.

Merion Considering Break With Township—Agitation for Borough Under Way

A movement is afoot in Merion, one of the Main Line's most exclusive suburbs, to break politically with Lower Merion Township, of which it is a part, and form a borough. This information came to light recently when questionnaires were sent out by the group agitating the step.

The questionnaire, signed by Clarence E. Hall, an attorney residing at Zolingerway and Heath roads, Merion, bears the following statement attests close: "This information is respectfully requested for a community which has under consideration the advisability of incorporating itself as a borough. This community covers an area of approximately one square mile, has 4000 inhabitants, and is now part of a township."

When questioned about this step, a township political leader said he had first heard of it about six months ago and attributed it to disgruntled taxpayers. He knew of no organization behind it and was under the impression that it had died a natural death by this time.

The questionnaire, which included 29 comprehensive questions about a borough, was sent it is believed to all boroughs throughout the State. To one of the questions, "Do you favor a borough form of government?" Henry A. Frye, chief Burgess of the Borough of Narberth, replied "Yes, for a compact community."

It is pointed out that, if the section of Merion which is considering incorporating as a borough is only one square mile, it would most likely be bounded by City Line, Bowman avenue, Wynnewood road and Montgomery pike. Though it would be compact geographically, it would lack completely three appendages of most self-sufficient communities, viz, churches, stores and schools. The Merion Public school would even be on the wrong side of Bowman avenue to be included, granted these to be the boundaries.

This would also leave the section known as Anthwyn Farms out in the cold, since to include it, would make the proposed borough's area well over one square mile.

High taxes seem to be the motive behind the movement, since Merion being highly improved as regards streets, sewers, etc., will now have to watch its tax money be diverted to unimproved sections of the township in which it has no interest.

Dr. Pearson, of Swarthmore to Address Community Club

Dr. Paul M. Pearson, of Swarthmore College, the founder and director of Swarthmore Chautauqua, and one of the founders and directors of the National Community Foundation, will give a "Lecture Recital" before the Women's Community Club at its next meeting on April 2, at Elm Hall. His subject will be "Who is Great?"

In Dr. Pearson the club members are assured of another nationally known speaker and an afternoon of such enjoyment as is always given by the splendid speakers that Swarthmore always provides for the audiences fortunate enough to hear them. Members may bring guests and only the regular guest fee will be charged.

The Women's Community Club have in the past club year had the pleasure of hearing eight nationally known speakers, indeed a record for a small club in a community the size of Narberth. Dr. Pearson will be the last noted speaker for the club year, and every member should avail herself of this afternoon of profit and entertainment. Mrs. Charles Carson will be the hostess of the afternoon.

Those desiring to purchase stationery are requested to be ready with their orders for Mrs. P. A. Wales at the meeting on the 2d. Further information may be had from Mrs. Wales, Ardmore, 145, after 5 P. M.

Letter Men to Get Awards on Tuesday

Next Tuesday morning at the Senior High School assembly, Ardmore, the basketball awards, including letters and the gold basketballs symbolic of the "A" League championship, will be awarded to members of the team.

Those eligible for these awards are Captain Kohlhas, Lockwood, Mandes, Sherwood, D'Amora, Segal, Faulk, Thomas and Gane.

Swimming awards will also be awarded to the letter members of the swimming team.

A rally will be held for the "Merionite," the quarterly of the Senior High School, in order to put the last issue across financially.

Sponsored Lecture

A stereopticon slide lecture sponsored by the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, N. S. D. A. R. was given at the Narberth School on Wednesday afternoon during the school session for the upper classes. The lecture, "Romance of Early American History," was given by the history teacher, Miss Ross.

BASEBALL CLUB TO CHOOSE MANAGER

Organization Meeting Wednesday at Office of Durbin and Howard.

ALL FANS ARE INVITED

Spring is here. Baseball is in the air. So it is fitting and proper that the Narberth baseball club, champions of the Main Line League for 1928, as for 11 other years, should organize for the 1929 season.

The organization meeting will be held at the real estate office of Durbin & Howard on North Narberth avenue next Wednesday evening, April 3, at 8 o'clock.

The two chief questions facing the local baseballers are the selection of a manager for the coming season, and the perennial problem of independent versus league ball.

Fred Walzer, who has ably directed the destinies of local baseball for the past 18 years, announced his retirement last fall, to take effect at the close of the season. Unless Fred reconsiders, which is not likely, a successor will have to be chosen next Wednesday.

Rumor has it that the most likely candidates for the managerial berth are Gene Davis, Harry Holler and Bill Durbin. It is said that Durbin would not accept the post, due to lack of time to devote to the job. Holler served as assistant manager last season, while Davis has been a member of the team for many years.

Officers of the club will also be elected at the meeting, though this is more or less of a formality. Last year's president, E. C. Griswold, set a new precedent however by attending games when he was in town during the summer, proving thereby that the club president is not a mere figurehead.

All who are interested in Narberth baseball are invited to attend the meeting.

Fellowship to Have Movie Benefit April 3 and 4

Last Sunday evening, March 24, the Fellowship of All Saints' Church had a regular old-time meeting with a very interesting program. Miss Jean Staples played two violin solos; Miss Elizabeth Terry played two piano solos; and Fred Egmor, Jr., gave a few impersonations which were very clever and humorous. The Program Committee wishes to thank the participants again for a most enjoyable entertainment.

At present the members of the Fellowship are busy selling tickets for a movie benefit at the Narberth Theater on Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4. A request is made that tickets be bought from a member by those planning to attend on either of those evenings.

Stites Is Speaker

Respect for America's founders and patriots was urged by former State Senator Fletcher W. Stites, Narberth, last Thursday in an address at the Frankford High School. The meeting, at which the attorney was the chief speaker, was held under auspices of the school's Fathers' Association.

ROTARIANS GUESTS OF SENIOR SCHOOL

Hear L. M. Graduating Class Will Be Largest in History.

DOWNES GIVES ADDRESS

An excellent luncheon served by the domestic science department of the Lower Merion Senior High School, followed by an inspection of the school plant, marked Tuesday's meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. C. B. Pennypacker, principal of the Senior High, welcomed the Rotarians as guests of the school. S. E. Downs, superintendent of the township schools, gave a brief address on modern educational methods and announced that this spring's graduating class of at least 225 students would be the largest in the school's history.

Mr. Pennypacker introduced as special guests of the school, Frank H. Elmore; Harry C. Bare, president of the Ardmore Rotary Club; M. P. Burlingame, president of the Bryn Mawr Business Association; Magistrate Meredith, Bryn Mawr, representing the Main Line Kiwanis Club; Peter C. Hess, township treasurer, who soon will present two silver cups and two plaques to winners in an inter-class swimming tournament; E. H. Snow, Junior High principal; Vernon Hammond, high school pianist, who took the job of entertaining the club men on a moment's notice and did it well; and E. L. Paxson, Guy Croyle, president of the Rotary Club, introduced two Ardmore Rotarians as club guests, John Albrecht and Al King.

In his address Mr. Downs gave statistics concerning the $2,000,000 school plant and told of Lower Merion's educational policies. This year's graduating class of at least

Green Likely Choice for Commission Post; Enters Petition Signed by 328 Voters

The two candidates aspiring for the General Wayne seat on the Board of Lower Merion Township Commissioners, last Friday, through counsel, submitted their qualifications to the Montgomery County Court at Norristown. The proceeding was in the nature of a hearing on their petitions for appointment to the vacancy.

W. Russell Green, attorney, of Narberth, and W. Powell Pachett, of Winding Way section of Merion, an official of the Packard Motorcar Company, are the two men who have entered the fight to represent the district on the township board.

Mr. Green's petition was filed with the County Court early last week, while Mr. Pachett took that necessary step on March 12.

Relative strength of the two candidates is evidenced in the number of signers on their petitions. Mr. Green's papers bore the names of 328 qualified voters of the district, while Mr. Pachett's petitions were signed by less than 100 residents, it was learned from the record at Norristown.

After the attorneys representing the two men had explained the rights of their respective clients to the position and after scores of witnesses had been heard for each, the Court announced that it would hold the matter under consideration.

It is generally conceded that popularity manifested by Mr. Green through his petitions, and the fact that he has been active in civic and political circles for some time, vir-

The Old Main Line

The following historical sketch, which will be printed serially, was written by Margaret B. Harvey, and originally published in a volume issued by the Historical Society of Montgomery County in 1895. Entitled "Something About Lower Merion," it traces the history of the township from its beginnings to the 1890's with many delightful digressions.

INSTALLMENT VI

The road (Gulf) proceeds by several more old mills, and then passes through the creek by a ford, which, fortunately for the lover of the picturesque, has never been superseded by a bridge. As we are pedestrians, we will cross upon the board foot-walk, steadying ourselves by a log hand-rail. And now only a strip of woodland, but dense as the primitive wilderness, separates us from the dam, beside which is the tottering wall of the Dove mill, where was, at one time, manufactured all the Government and bank-note paper, distinguished by its water mark of a dove with an olive branch. Now the road emerges from its bordering woods, and passes into a stretch of green fields. But down the slope to the right, do you not see a wonderful collection of dark rocks, of strange, fantastic forms, overhung by clumps of cedars, faintly festooned by grave-vines? This remarkable bit of country, near the upper course of the Mill creek, covers several acres. It is called the Black Rocks; it is a paradise of botanists and artists and a problem to geologists, but to the historian a spot of rare interest, in that it was the last Indian reservation in Montgomery county.

The road now makes an abrupt turn, and, leaving the fields, approaches another region of dense woodland. Standing back from the roadway, with only the creek and a meadow between, is another old stone mansion. This, in pre-Revolutionary days, was the residence of one Harrison, the proprietor of a slave plantation; for little as we care to acknowledge it, human slavery once existed in Pennsylvania, and in Lower Merion. Harrison's ambition was to hold "a hundred niggers," but he was never permitted to realize this, as the hundredth always died, leaving him but 99. The soul of "Harrison's niggers" are said to haunt the whole Harrison, or as it is generally written, Harriston, domain. But the same house has other claims to distinction. Later it was occupied by Harrison's son-in-law, Charles Thomson, Secretary of Colonial Congress. This much relating to Thomson is well known; but it is not so generally known that he was the first American translator of the Bible; that the translation was made in this antique Lower Merion mansion; that Thomson's version, now preserved in the library of the University of Oxford, is one of the most accurate in existence; and that he accomplished the task entirely unaided.

From the same point of view, crowning a not-distant eminence, a height forming part of the semi-mountainous elevations near Conshohocken, may be discerned yet another of these antique stone mansions, a remarkably fine one, which its present occupant, Wayne MacVeagh, has had the good taste to improve without destroying its old-time character. This was once the residence of the celebrated Judge Richard B. Jones, the last survivor of the officers and crew of the frigate Philadelphia, taken prisoner by the Algerines. Later it was occupied by the Rev. Dudley Tyng, one of a family of advanced thinkers; Dr. Anita V. Tyng, of the same race, is today one of the most famous of women physicians. The present owners of Brookfield, as the place is still called, is no less distinguished than his predecessors.

Did we neglect to mention that one of William Penn's milestones, with three balls, still stands, here along the edge of the woods? Shall we enter the dense forest upon our left? If we do we shall find the low-walled Harriston family cemetery, filled with graves overgrown by wild flowers, and marked by gray or brown stone tablets, with a few marble ones discolored by age. Here were interred the remains of Charles Thomson; from this little secluded burying ground his body was feloniously stolen by his non-Quaker relatives and carried to Laurel Hill. Here lie the bones of many of Thomson's connections, of the Morris family, living members of which now possess nearly all of the land in the immediate vicinity. These same Morris, with all those prominently known in Lower Merion and Philadelphia, belong to the identical race which gave to the world, as well as to our country, the illustrious Robert and Gouverneur Morris.

Busy Days at "Y"

There is never a dull season at the Ardmore Y. M. C. A., according to H. O. Buehler, secretary, who announced today that a baseball league among the churches of Ardmore, Narberth, Bryn Mawr and vicinity will be formed about the middle of April. At the same time or a little earlier there will be a grammar school swimming meet among the pupils in grade schools of Lower Merion township. This week the Lower Merion High School interclass swimming contests for the Hess and Meredith trophies were held. The church basketball league will continue for about a month, Mr. Buehler said.

Give Annual Concert

Haverford College's musical clubs gave their final concert of the season last Friday night in Roberts Hall, Haverford. Special features included dialect songs by Dr. James McF. Carpenter, professor of Romance languages at the college, a monologue by Carroll L. Corson, and selections by a saxophone quartet. There were six presentations by the glee club, led by David Speck, Merion, and four by the instrumental club. A dance followed the concert.

Letter to Editor

RELATES HISTORY OF ROCKLAND AVENUE

To the editor of Our Town:

Why do our Borough Fathers hate Rockland avenue from Narberth avenue to the railroad?

As you well know this road is a connecting link between the north and south sides of the railroad. We have the Wynnewood avenue crossing, the Narberth avenue crossing and the Rockland avenue crossing, and wild crying for one at Essex avenue—yet neglect and despise the one at our eastern border. Since the formation of our borough, to the writer's knowledge, some half dozen loads of ashes or used material from another road, dumped near the bridge, so that lives might not be unduly endangered, will about cover all the attention this road has ever received.

The newcomers to our city may be interested in knowing just how that bridge at Rockland avenue happens to be there. It certainly is not indebted to our borough for its existence. So backward, turn backward, oh time, in your flight, and through its purpling mist, behold the Broadway Limited, John Dickson, greatest of the Quaker soldiers and Statesmen, passing title to 240 acres of land to one Jacob Morris, February 24, 1807. This tract roughly covered the section now bounded by Montgomery avenue, from Merion to Haverford avenues, down Haverford to Wynnewood avenue, along Wynnewood avenue to Bowman avenue, out Bowman to Merion avenue, and along Merion avenue to the place of beginning. Jacob Morris, at his death in 1817, gave all of this tract, with the exception of the Anthony Farms section to his daughter, Mary McClenachan, daughter-in-law of the patriot—Blair McClenachan—who at various times owned Mr. Pleasant or Arnold House in Fairmount Park, Chew House in Germantown, and died at the John Roberts house along Mill Creek.

Mary McClenachan had her farm for sale in 1847, when James Sullivan, a retired wholesale grocer from Atlanta, Ga., heard about it while stopping at the General Wayne to have his horse shod. He bought the farm and when the West Philadelphia branch of the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad was built between his house and barn in 1849, made the railroad build him a bridge, and when he sold his northside lands in 1863 to Charles S. Wood he reserved "there out the right of use of a lane or road 30 feet wide to Merion avenue," where the lane is now used, "said right of use to be enjoyed by said James Sullivan and Charles S. Wood, owners of said respective premises, their respective heirs and assigns." Messrs. Sullivan and Wood, good men that they were, now wait the trumpet's call. Their heirs have no interest in Rockland avenue and their assigns look quietly at the road, where two rival political aristocracies have always met back to back, with faraway looks in their eyes.

This road, up to five years ago, between the bridge and Merion avenue, was one of the worst in the State, but through the driving power of the Merion Civic Association, the township fathers were made to fix it.

Yours truly,

OLD FOGY.

So they improved its preparation.

JEDDO-HIGHLAND Coal has always been recognized as having the best preparation of any coal mined. Always seeking some form of improvement, the Jeddo-Highland Company is now using the sand flotation method of cleaning its coal, through a type of equipment called the "Chance Separator."

In the industry, it is recognized that this new method of preparation more nearly eliminates bone and slate than any other process known. In the home it is going to mean greater satisfaction in coal-burning than has ever before been experienced.

And with the quality right—the prices right—why shouldn't the TIME be ripe for storing up the necessary amount of Jeddo-Highland Anthracite for next winter's use?

Of course, your furnace needs vacuum-cleaning and perhaps a fresh coat of whitewash would improve your cellar. We are prepared to do both or either.

To Give You a

Helpful and Efficient Service

IN order that you may continue to receive the same helpful and efficient service which your bank has always rendered, you are asked to build up your checking account, not that it may be profitable to the bank, but only that it may earn its own way.

WHEN you maintain an average daily balance of $100* your account carries itself, and assures you of the most up-to-date banking service.

*An Explanation of 'Average Daily Balance'

An average daily balance of $100 does not mean that you must have $100 in the bank each day. If, for instance, you deposit $225 on the first day of the month and check it out, by reasonable stages, by the end of the month—your account will average $100 in daily average balances.

YOU have the right to expect this efficiency from your bank and, by building up your account, this helpful service can be continued to your benefit.

AN officer of your bank will be glad to answer any questions which are not clear to you.

{ STARTING May 1st, 1929, a Carrying Charge of $1.00 will be applied to accounts of less than $100 in average daily balances.* }

Pick Colonial Village

For Military Academy

Hall and Old Congress Hall, with Old Congress Hall on the right and old City Hall on the left, connected by cloisters. The central building will house the class rooms, administrative offices and reception rooms for cadets and guests. The wing buildings will each have accommodations for 150 cadets. A modern gymnasium will be a duplicate of Carpenter's Hall and the faculty houses will be reproductions of the Betsey Ross House, the Robert Morris House, the Chew House and the William Penn House. Under the plans submitted and accepted by the Board of Directors of the Academy, all future buildings of the institution will conform to this general plan of reproduction of noted historical buildings of Colonial days.

Standing as these buildings will, on a high knoll, in the shadows of historic Valley Forge Park, and with the surrounding Colonial atmosphere of Colonial Village, the Academy is expected to prove one of the show places of the Main Line for those visiting America's historic shrines.

Has Main Line Director.

Details of the selection of a permanent site for the school have been under consideration for some time by the Board of Governors of the Academy. The directors include Major Milton G. Baker, Murdock P. Clancy, J. Howard Mecke, Jr., and Charles S. Powell. The Board of Governors are Brig. General Edward S. Shannon, Judge W. Butler Windle, Col. W. S. Oury, U. S. A., Dr. W. Herbert Burk and Col. Fred Taylor Pusey.

The plans delivered to the Powell Construction Company of Ardmore, call for fireproof construction throughout, built on brick and limestone trimmings carrying out the Colonial idea, but with every modern convenience. The main building will be 45 ft. x 120 ft. The dormitory wings will be separated from the main building by cloisters as is Independence Hall in Philadelphia, and will be 38 feet x 220 feet. The dormitory wings will also contain cadet store, barber shop, tailor shop, rifle range, storage rooms and locker space. There will be individual baths for each two cadet rooms.

The gymnasium, which will conform to the general plan, will be 70 feet x 120 feet, and will have an indoor track and will be used for indoor drills. The dining room, with a seating capacity of 350 at one time, will be in the main building. The gymnasium will be adjacent to the athletic field and parade ground. The power house will be alongside the Reading track, from which a private siding will be built.

Following the ground breaking exercises next week, construction work will be rushed so that the building may be turned over to the Board of Directors September 1, preparatory to the reopening of the school two weeks later.

The selection of a building plan calling for all school buildings to be duplicates of famous buildings of Colonial times was made by the Board of Governors of the school after the site adjoining Colonial Village had been decided upon. These buildings will blend naturally with the architectural plan of the village, which is unique among American communities and already has attracted nationwide attention.

In founding Colonial Village Mr. Mecke, who also is a member of the Board of Governors of the Valley Forge Military Academy, gave Colonial

Notice of Meeting

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Narberth Building and Loan Association will be held Thursday, May 2, 1929, at 9 P. M., to vote on the following amendments to the By-Laws:

ARTICLE VIII

Officers.

Section 1. The officers of this Association shall be a President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, Assistant Treasurer, Assistant Secretary and seven directors, all of whom must be Stockholders. They shall be elected by the Stockholders at their annual meeting in March, and annually thereafter, and shall continue in office and perform their respective duties until their successors shall be elected. No person shall be voted for at said election who has not been regularly nominated.

RESOLVED, That Article IX, Section 1, of the By-Laws be amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE IX

Board of Directors

Section 1. The President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, Assistant Treasurer, Assistant Secretary and seven directors shall constitute a Board of Directors. The Board shall meet on the first Thursday of every month, to receive payments from and make loans to members, attend to financial concerns and generally superintend the interest of the Association. The meetings shall always be open for admission, and their proceedings for the inspection of members.

THOS. C. TROTTER, JR., Secretary.

Americana the greatest impetus it has had in years. Every building in the village will be along the simple but beautiful lines of the homes of those lived in the Revolutionary days. Of course these buildings will be modernized to the last degree but the general Colonial aspect will be retained. This idea, carried out strictly, will make Colonial Village the only community in the country where a single period of architecture is carried out.

With this Colonial atmosphere from the village and living and studying and playing in buildings reminiscent of such buildings as Independence Hall, the Chew mansion where the battle of Germantown was fought, the house where Betsy Ross made the first American standard and the William Penn house (now in Fairmount Park in Philadelphia), it is hoped the cadets of the Academy will grow up in surroundings of unparalleled patriotic atmosphere. And the thousands who yearly pay a visit to historic Valley Forge Park are certain to spread the fame of the Academy. Dr. Burk, active in the restoration and beautification of Valley Forge Park, is high in the councils of the school.

In looking toward the future Mr. Mecke, Mr. Powell, Major Baker and the other officials of the Academy, have arranged for gradual needed increases in buildings and grounds as the size of the student corps grows. Additional adjoining land to that already set aside for the Academy has been arranged for and will be utilized as needed.

In the few years since its founding the Academy has forged rapidly to the front. Primarily a cavalry school, the cadet troop already is ranked in military academy circles along with the famous "Black Horse troop" of Culver Academy in Indiana, for years the standard body of its kind in the country. And with the opening of the new gymnasium and athletic field the Academy is expected to take high ranking in scholastic athletic circles.

new symphony with this music as a central theme.

Two announcements of great interest to the Methodists and their friends were made during the services. It was reported that the committee conducting the financial campaign for the new church building had secured $14,430 in new pledges, $7718 of which will be available when ground is broken. Of equal importance was the word that a gift of $12,000 from one of the members of the church had been made available for a new organ. It is hoped that the impetus of these encouraging statements will soon be manifested in active work on the new building across the street.

At the morning service "The Palms" was sung as a bass solo by John Miller, the choir rendered Gounod's "Sanctus" and Mrs. Stam favored with "Ride on, O King" as a soprano solo. Miss Warren presided at the organ for both services.

As a fitting conclusion for the day, Mr. Mearns at the chimes accompanied the hymn "Abide With Me" and the audience departed feeling that a day of really special worship and meaning for the "Little Church on the Hill" had worked a real step forward. There will be more special musical nights and it is expected that the committee in charge will see that the high standard now set up will be carried on.

Forty New Books Ready at Library

The period of wanderlust has arrived and requests are numerous at the Library for books that will take one far afield into other regions. In response to these requests, the library has purchased this month several books that, added to the collection of travel books already in the library will serve to meet this demand. They will be found heading the list of new books purchased in March.
Travel:
"Lay Confessor," by Stephen Graham (Russia in fiction).
"Flight of the Southern Cross," by C. E. Kingsford-Smith.
"My Mystery Ships," by Admiral Gordon Campbell (In quest of U-boats).
"Undiscovered Australia," by Captain G. N. Wilkins.
"Hobnails and Heather," by Clifton Lisle (Boy Scouts in England).
"Our Neighbor Nicaragua," by Floyd Cramer.
"In Java," by John C. Van Dyke (The Painter's Paradise).
"Red Tiger," by Phillips Russell (adventures in Yucatan and Mexico).
Fiction and General Books:
"Dark Hester," by Anne Douglas Sedgwick.
"Duskin," by Grace L. Hill.
"The Buffer," by Alice Hegan Rice.
"Dodsworth," by Sinclair Lewis.
"You Can't Print That," by George Selde (censored matter released).
"The House That Whispered," by Emery (mystery).
"Cloth of Gold," by Elswyth Thane.
"Souvenir," by Floyd Dell.
"Murder on 'B' Deck," by Vincent Starrett (mystery).
"True Heart," by Sylvia Warner.
"The Texas Titan," by John Oskison (biography of Sam Houston).
"This Side of Jordan," by Roark Bradford (stories of plantation Negroes).
"Wings Over Europe," by Robert Nichols (Theater Child play).
"Best European Stories of 1928," by Richard Eaton.
"Seven Modern Comedies," by Lord Dunsany (worth reading).
"And Then Came Ford," by Carl Merz.
"Lost Commander, Florence Nightingale," by Mary R. S. Andrews.
"Poems of American History," edited by Burton Stevenson.
"Modern Temper," by Joseph Wood Krutch (reaction of the discoveries of last 100 years on man's mind).

Suburban 'A' Basketball Champs

Lower Merion High School basketball team, victor in the Class "A" Suburban League race with seven wins and three defeats.

Standing—Wilbur, manager; Al Thomas, forward; Charlie Faulk, forward; "Rabbit" Sherwood, center; Henry Gane, guard; Coach Bill Anderson.

Letter men returning to school next year are Mandes, D'Amora, Lockwood and Gane, with the other five varsity players to be lost through graduation.

Josephine Lucchese

In Recital Wednesday

One of the most important musical events of the season will be the recital by Josephine Lucchese at the Junior High School Building, Ardmore, Wednesday evening. The concert is given under the auspices of the Lower Merion High School Alumni Association for the benefit of the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Madame Lucchese, who, after a three years' tour abroad, achieved a triumph last evening in the role of Rosina with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company in "Il Barbiere di Siviglia," will appear in Ardmore accompanied by a selected group of musicians.

The scholarship, a memorial to the boys of Lower Merion High School who gave their lives in the world war, finances four students in college at one time. One new beneficiary is chosen each year, necessitating an annual expenditure of $1000, which must be raised by the Alumni Association. The fund when completed will amount to $20,000. About one-half of this sum has been obtained, and it is hoped to have the remaining $10,000 in the near future.

Tickets may be obtained from E. J. Buckley, president of the Alumni Association, in the Ardmore National Bank, or from Mary Scott McShane, secretary, at the Commissioners' office in the Township Building.

High School Mermaids Defeat Radnor, 38-30

By winning the 80-yard relay and taking first place in the diving contest, Lower Merion High's girls swimming team defeated Radnor's mermaids in a dual meet at the Ardmore "Y" pool last Friday. The final score was 38-30. Lower Merion's team consisted of Misses Palmer, Wilbur, Holt, Mahl, Pugh, Main, Goldsmith, Evans and Gimber.

Miss Evans took first in diving and was a member of the winning relay team. Miss Mahl won the second in both the side stroke and crawl, and tied for second in the back stroke. Miss Palmer won two events, the 20-yard dash and the 20-yard dash back stroke and was mainstay on the relay quartet.

For Radnor, Miss Adams, first in back stroke; Miss J. Oliver, winner of the crawl, and Misses Boyle and Fox, victors in the double crawl event, were the main point makers.

Schwable Gets Eight Years

William H. Schwable, 30, Oakmont's "thrill bandit," was sentenced at Media last week to eight to 20 years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5000. He had pleaded guilty to robbery. His wife, Mrs. Ruth Schwable, 25, nearly collapsed on hearing the sentence pronounced.

Easter

Again we feel the joyous thrill
That Easter Sunday gives;
For death has given up its prey
And our Redeemer lives.

O grave, where is thy victory?
O death, where is thy sting?
To Him Who conquered both of these
Our songs of praise we'll sing.

We'll gladly claim the ransom paid,
For which His life He gave;
That we like Him may conquerors be,
O'er sin and death and grave.
—Margaret L. Griffith.

Park, just as soon as possible so inspection can be made and your room judged. Beside the possibility of your kitchen being named the best in Narberth you may be awarded the prize of $10 offered by the Better Homes Committee.

Home Landscaping and Garden Contest.

1. All drawings submitted should be on plain white sheets of paper 16 inches wide by 24 inches high. It should be signed with the name and address in the lower right-hand corner of the drawing.

2. All drawings should be delivered not later than April 18 to the office of A. E. Wohlert, Garden Nurseries, Montgomery avenue, Narberth.

3. The plan submitted should preferably be a true copy of the contestant's own premises. It may be idealized slightly and should indicate spaces for planting of shade trees, shrubbery, perennial borders, screen planting, if any, and a base planting around the house. It should indicate the varieties proposed for the planting by name or key number marked directly on the plan.

4. The drawing may be made in pencil, crayon or ink in black and white, or color.

5. The ground plan may be shown, or both the ground plan and elevation plan.

6. Awards shall be made as follows:

Twenty points for neatness and accuracy of drawing.

Forty points for arrangement.

Forty points for choice of unusual material.

The next meeting of the Better Homes Committee will be held April 4 at the Community Building.

225 seniors will greatly surpass in number the previous high record of 143, he said, and even more remarkable is the fact that no less than 50 per cent of all pupils entering the first grade in township schools graduate from Lower Merion High School.

Mr. Downs called attention to Narberth's interest in the high schools, as 223 students from the borough are now enrolled in the Junior and Senior High and the transfer of eighth grade pupils to the Junior High will increase this number by about 60.

The superintendent asserted that a major problem of educators was caused by parents who want their children to follow in their footsteps vocationally when it is evident to the young folks' mentors that their talents and abilities could be guided and developed in another direction with greater success.

tually assure him of the appointment. Mr. Pachett, on the other hand, although recognized as a properly qualified man for the post, is handicapped by the fact that he is comparatively unknown by the majority of voters in the district, it is pointed out.

Mr. Green, who is vice president of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club and commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, American Legion, of Narberth, took an active part in the last political campaign as a speaker for the organization ticket.

Peter C. Hess, township treasurer and Republican leader, and other organization chieftains have declared that they will not exert influence in the district contest, but it is openly said that Green's loyalty to the party in the last campaign will have considerable bearing on his chances in the contest.

After service in the world war Mr. Green came to Narberth 10 years ago and established his law office. He has lived at 440 Woodbine avenue for the last six years.

The General Wayne district seat became vacant on February 25 at the death of James A. Stretch, who was the patriarch of the board of commissioners at the time of his death.
